- E. SESSION SUMMARY:

The target is a large structure that is narrow and pointed on top, and wide on the bottom. One side slopes up, like the side of a triangle, and the other side seems to have something rounded and wide attached to it or sitting on it, (see sketch). The color green or a green glow is prominent. There is an "immense" feeling at the target area, possibly that the target is very large. Energetics is also a part of the site, and a sense of urgency.

There is a smaller part of the target, almost a minuscule thing, that causes a lot of commotion. There is also a door opening or an entrance of some kind that leads to a larger part of the site.

The target is located outdoors, in the southern United States. (There was a mixed feeling whether it was southeast, or southwest, such as California/New Mexico/Arizona area. Possibly AOL from Grand Canyon target.) There is a long and winding road in the target area, either to get to the target, or around it. (Another AOL: Rocket or Space Shuttle.)
